Biocon expects debt rejig to give ₹300 cr booster to interest costs

Q&A As Biocon Biologics Ltd (BBL) charts its next phase of global expansion, Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director Shreehas Tambe outlines how the company is reshaping access, affordability, and growth in biosimilars. From California, in a video interview with Sohini Das and Aneeka Chatterjee, he talks of the ways in which BBL is working to stay ahead in competitive global markets. Edited excerpts:

Biocon Biologics is partnering California's CalRx initiative for affordable insulin. How significant is the tieup commercially, and does it indicate a broader shift toward government-linked procurement or value-based models in key markets?

■ The announcement with the California government for CalRx-branded insulin glargine is path-breaking. It is an arrangement that complements our flexible commercial platform. Through a partnership with Civica, a not-for-profit organisation, we enable direct distribution of insulin from the state to pharmacies, eliminating middlemen and making it affordable for Californians. California accounts for 20 per cent of America's insulin consumption, and this initiative opens a new, complementary channel for future state collaboration.

There are 50 states in the United States (US), and California is the first. We're already in discussion with several other states, as well as with partners like Civica and potentially TrumpRx, to explore similar initiatives. I would not call this a shift — it's not replacing our commercial channels. Rather, it's an example of the flexibility of our platform, which allows us to add another channel: Enabling direct-to-pharmacy access while continuing to serve existing ones.

Biocon has just settled structured debt obligations with Goldman Sachs and Kotak Mahindra Bank, and says this will cut interest costs from FY27. How much breathing room does this give Biocon Biologics on the balance sheet?

■ We have been saying we will lighten the balance sheet and make it stronger. When we raised funds through a qualified institutional placement, we stated they would be used to retire structured debt. We have retired over ₹4,500 crore, closing out Goldman Sachs, Kotak Mahindra Bank, and soon Edelweiss. This will reduce interest costs by about ₹300 crore by FY27.

With debt easing and the business gaining traction, is the initial public offering (IPO) still on the table? What's the realistic timeframe now?

■ We do not have any new developments to report at this point. As you may recall, Kiran Mazumdar-Shaw (Biocon chief) had mentioned that the Biocon board had formed a committee to evaluate the best way to monetise Biocon's investment in biologics — whether through an IPO or another route. Until the committee completes its review and reports back to the Biocon board, we would not have any updates.

The launch of Denosumab is on track. Which launches do you see as the next growth engine, and how are you positioning against bigger global biosimilar rivals in the US, Europe?

■ At the close of FY25, we announced plans to launch five products in the US. Of these, four have been launched in the first two quarters, a major milestone, given the negotiations on intellectual property, settlements, and litigation involved. Previously, we had four products in the US over seven years, but by FY26, we'll have five launches within 12-18 months of March 2025. The fifth product, our athlete percept, is expected in the second half of next year. Though early, these launches position us strongly for sustained growth and competitive advantage.

The group has filed for semaglutide in Canada and Brazil. How significant are GLP-1 (glucagon-like peptide-1) products to Biocon's next phase of growth?

■ There is a sizable opportunity with semaglutide. Canada is expected to open up before other markets. Initially, there was an expectation that one of our Indian peers might enter sooner, but that seems to have been delayed somewhat. We already have the capability to develop and manufacture it. But now, with our own commercial front in Canada through Biocon Biologics, we have a truly differentiated approach compared to many of our Indian peers. This sets us apart.

It also gives us an additional advantage because we are commercialising insulin in that region. So, alongside insulin, we can offer GLP-1 products through the same distribution channels, the same customers, and the same buying groups. This makes it a complementary offer that allows us to leverage existing relations.

You recently inaugurated a facility for oral solids in the US. Any plans to expand the manufacturing footprint?

■ We recently inaugurated our commercial manufacturing facility in Cranbury, New Jersey. Establishing it in the US was a strategic move. Being closer to the market, it provides logistical and procurement advantages. It's a sound business decision that strengthens our competitive position and supports long-term sustainability.

Given your partnership with Civica for insulin manufacturing in the US, are you exploring a similar local production model for semaglutide?

■ We have established a partnership with Civica to produce insulin domestically. Under this collaboration, we supply the drug substance, and Civica manufactures insulin in the US, for the US. This decision was made well before recent trade discussions. It was based purely on business rationale. Producing close to our patients and markets simply makes sense.

The same principle will guide our approach to semaglutide manufacturing. If it makes business sense to produce locally, based on demand and market dynamics, we will. Wherever there is a large consumption base, we aim to be close to our customers.

Tillman to invest ₹15,000 cr to set up Vizag data centre

SHINE JACOB
Chennai, 12 November

Andhra Pradesh has signed an agreement with New York-headquartered Tillman Global Holdings to develop a 300 megawatt (Mw) hyperscale data centre campus called TDGAP1 in Visakhapatnam for a proposed investment of ₹15,000 crore.

The project will be facilitated through the Andhra Pradesh Economic Development Board (APEDB) and strengthen Visakhapatnam's reputation as a digital infrastructure hub in the Indo Pacific, said a statement.

A memorandum of understanding (MoU) between the two sides sets a facilitation framework for time-bound development within 12 months, with APEDB coordinating investor support and inter-agency facilitation under applicable state and central government policies. The project will span about 40 acres and is expected to generate 200–300 direct jobs and 800–1,000 indirect jobs by 2028 through growth in allied services, logistics, Cloud networks, and ancillary units.

THE PROJECT WILL SPAN ABOUT 40 ACRES, AND IS EXPECTED TO GENERATE 200–300 DIRECT JOBS AND 800–1,000 INDIRECT JOBS BY 2028

Tillman, a digital infrastructure company, will bring investment, technology, planning and design, and critical equipment for TDGAP1. All land allotments, incentives, and benefits will be undertaken by relevant state departments through due process, including participation in applicable tender processes.

"Andhra Pradesh offers a compelling combination of coastal connectivity, progressive governance, and a rapidly expanding digital economy," said Sachit Ahuja, co president, Tillman Global Holdings. "With TDGAP1, we aim to build a world class 300 MW campus in Visakhapatnam that anchors long term digital infrastructure, creates high quality jobs, and catalyses a broader ecosystem of services and innovation. We value the state's facilitation through APEDB and look forward to executing this project in a time bound manner".

"This MoU underscores Andhra Pradesh's strategy to position Visakhapatnam as a premier data center hub," said Nara Lokesh, the state's Minister for IT, Electronics and HRD. "The proposed Rs. 15,000 crore investment by Tillman Global Holdings will strengthen our digital backbone, generate direct and indirect employment for our youth, and attract allied investments across energy, networks, cloud, and services. The government will facilitate within policy to ensure swift, transparent progress."

The development follows Google's announcement of a $15 billion investment to establish an artificial intelligence data centre in Andhra Pradesh — its largest in India — in partnership with Adani Group and Airtel, including an international subsea gateway.

Syrma plans to make printed circuit boards at Andhra plant: MD

AASHISH ARYAN
New Delhi, 12 November

Electronic manufacturing services (EMS) firm Syrma SGS plans to start the trial production of printed circuit boards (PCB) from its upcoming Andhra Pradesh manufacturing unit by December 2026 to facilitate the commercial production from the unit by March 2027, the company's Managing Director J S Gujral said.

Syrma SGS is confident of crossing the 9% Ebitda target for FY26: MD J S Gujral

"Once I start my trial production, I approach my customers for the approvals and other formalities," Gujral told Business Standard.

The land for the plant had been provisionally allotted to the company and the process for registering it is underway, he said. The PCB manufacturing plant, for which Syrma SGS has received the central government's approval under the Electronics Component Manufacturing Scheme (ECMS), is located near Naidupeta in Tirupati district of Andhra Pradesh. The unit, spread over 7 lakh square feet, should be ready in the next 12-13 months, Gujral said.

"We expect to break ground for construction sometime in the next month. We have also given the plans for approval. I am confident that we should be able to start construction very soon," Gujral said.

The total investment in the plant is likely to be ₹1,595 crore and is expected to create 2,170 high-skill jobs. Overall, Syrma SGS is confident of crossing the 9 per cent earning before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortisation (Ebitda) target for this financial year, Gujral said.

"What excites us are the new customers that we have onboarded, which are big-ticket size customers. They should be giving us the revenue from next year. We also expect our bracket of ₹100-crore customers going up to about 20 by next year from the 10 we have currently," he said.

Google's $15 bn AI hub to cater to user demand

AASHISH ARYAN
New Delhi, 12 November

Google expects an increase in demand from customers with the setting up of its $15 billion artificial intelligence (AI) data hub in Visakhapatnam, said Matt Renner, president of global revenue at Google Cloud.

"There is a very progressive set of demands from firms in India, especially in the business-to-business and business-to-consumer spaces, when it comes to AI. We are seeing very broad and diverse demand from customers in India and trying to meet that with our infrastructure," Renner said during a press conference on Wednesday.

Sovereign in-country investments, such as the one made by Google in Visakhapatnam, help the company assure its customers that their data will remain safe and within the geographical boundaries of their country, Renner said.

Google, he said, had "very advanced sovereign solutions" to meet any regulatory demands that Google Cloud's customers could have. In October this year, Google announced a $15 billion investment over the next five years.

१. कंपनीच्या ३० सप्टेबर, २०२५ रोजी समाप्त तिमाही आणि अर्धवर्षाच्या उपरोक्त अलेखापरीक्षित वित्तीय निष्कर्षांचे लेखापरीक्षण समितीद्वारे पुनरावलोकन करण्यात आले आणि कंपनीच्या संचालक मंडळाने त्यांच्या १२नोव्हेंबर, २०२५ रोजी झालेल्या सभेमध्ये मंजूर केले. पुढे, मिस. एम. आर. ज्योती, कंपनीचे अध्यक्ष आणि व्यवस्थापकीय संचालक, ३० सप्टेंबर, २०२५ रोजी समाप्त तिमाही आणि अर्धवर्षाच्या उपरोक्त वित्तीय निष्कर्षांवर स्वाक्षरी करण्यासाठी कंपनीच्या संचालक मंडळाद्वारे योग्य पद्धतीने अधिकृत आहेत.

३. २५ मार्च २०२५ पासून एकमेव उपकंपनीतील गुंतवणुकीच्या विक्रीमुळे, कंपनीला आता ३० सप्टेंबर २०२५ रोजी संपलेल्या तिमाहीतील फक्त स्वतंत्र वित्तीय निष्कर्ष सादर करावे लागतील. त्यानुसार, ३० सप्टेंबर २०२४ रोजी संपलेल्या तिमाही आणि ३१ मार्च २०२५ रोजी संपलेल्या वर्षासाठी तुलनात्मक स्वतंत्र विभाग माहिती वैधानिक लेखापरीक्षकांकडून मर्यादित पुनरावलोकनाच्या अधीन नव्हती आणि व्यवस्थापनाने ती संकलित केली आहे, कारण कंपनीने त्यावेळी एकत्रित विभाग निष्कर्ष प्रकाशित केले होते जे अशा पुनरावलोकनाच्या अधीन होते.
